Target version:	v0.5.0
Description
Make sure that when activated the view respects the filters/sorting applied by the Table view and has both arrows on the left/right sides of the view to transition between products. Also make sure the arrows keys when input to the main view swap between products. When at the end or beginning of the session list, gray out the arrow of that particular side to denote that there are no products in that direction to view. Note: When the view is first setup it will still transition back to reviewed products if they were marked by the current session while in the view. but if the view is left and then entered again they will become filtered out.
